

Addressing the CRISIS of UNEQUAL TREATMENT for our youth

Black, brown and other children of color who experience racial bias and frequent police encounters suffer high rates of fear, anxiety and depression. These situations compromise the health and well-being of our children and can increase crime instead of reduce it.

Learn more at the FREE online webinar:

Race, Adolescence and Trauma

When: Tuesday, June 22 on Zoom

Time: Noon

Instructor: Kristin Henning, J.D., LL.M.

Blume Professor of Law and Director of the Juvenile Justice Clinic and Initiative at Georgetown University Law Center, Washington, D.C.

Sponsored by:

Juvenile Justice Coalition of the Quad Cities, LULAC Council 10, Davenport NAACP, One Human Family QCA, Progressive Action for the Common Good and the Unitarian Universalist Congregation of the Quad Cities

Register at this link:

https://us02web.zoom.us/webinar/register/WN_u2vrnNX3REW-ZLpyt29xew

Advance registration is required.

Save the Date for a follow-up session at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, July 6.

